In All Our Ways...Acknowledging Him

Recognizing and Appreciating Our God-Given Strengths

In this entertaining, inspirational presentation, you'll hear about Learning Styles, the distinguishing characteristics that identify natural learning strengths. As Christians, we should especially recognize and value each person's unique God-given talents and abilities. By identifying and using different learning style approaches, we can celebrate our Creator and Designer and learn to bring hope and encouragement to every style with the message of Christ.

Turning Conflict Into Cooperation

Bringing Out the Best in a Strong-Willed Person

Valuable insights into how the hearts and minds of even the strongest-willed person can be turned from angry conflict to voluntary cooperation. You can use these proven strategies immediately, and you'll be amazed at the difference! Learn to avoid confrontation, anger and emotional outbursts by using simple and practical techniques that work for virtually everyone. Whether you are struggling with a strong-willed child or spouse in your family, or a strong-willed boss or co-worker, you'll walk away with new hope and enthusiasm for bringing out the best in both of you!

More Than Just Another Day of School!

Reaching All Styles for the Gospel

The last thing most children want on Sunday is just another day of school: workbooks, stern teachers, quiet time, etc. Christian educators and Sunday School workers can learn how to make the Gospel come alive, and can make Sundays the most anticipated day of the week by recognizing and appreciating each child's unique design. In this quick and practical overview, you can learn to design strategies for motivating all kinds of learners while maintaining bottom-line accountability and discipline. Even a child with the strongest will can be drawn to Christ when you discover and teach The Way They Learn!

Cynthia is very well received speaking in Sunday morning worship services, as well as retreats, fund-raisers and community outreach events.

Recommendations from enthusiastic clients:

"I am still remembering the huge delight of every person in the room! The three presentations seemed like just a few minutes to those of us who soak up every word you say, learning while we laugh! Thank you for being who you are...a very unique individual whom God has gifted with immense talent and intellect.

—Martha Kirkland
Lifeway Church Resources—Nashville, TN

"You were a smashing success at our Salado Conference last week. Both of your presentations were outstanding and timely and our ministers appreciated all you had to say."

—Nelda P. Williams
Baptist General Convention of Texas

Cynthia is terrific, very well received by parents and faculty.

—Lynn Rosenbach
Faith Lutheran School, Las Vegas, NV

"You are not only a masterful speaker with a quiet winsome way, Cynthia, but your message is one that parents and teachers all over the world long to hear."

—Sandy Smith
Bailey Smith Ministries, Atlanta, GA

"Thank you for your dynamic ministry on the Intermountain District. The Lord used you in a powerful way. What a blessing to see our people respond as they did—Only eternity will reveal the total impact of your ministry"

— Rev. Ron Kratzer
Intermountain District Church of the Nazarene—Nampa, ID

"The attendees of our Women in Policing Seminar were captivated by the fact that Cynthia Tobias really understands policing, different learning styles, and the strong personalities that it takes to work in such a career. I have never seen such an attentive audience. Almost a year later people are still taking about the seminar and how we learned a lot about ourselves that day."

—Terri MacMillan, Retired Sergeant
Seattle Police Department

"Thank you so much for your participation in Focus on the Family's first-ever Teachers in Focus Conference. The attendees were overwhelming in their positive comments. Several wrote that they planned to make specific changes in their classrooms to try to recognize the strengths of all their students. The presentations were a total success—all that we had wanted them to be!"

—Tom Minnery
Focus on the Family, Colorado Springs, CO

"The reality of Learning Styles is so obvious that it is a shame we in the church have overlooked it for so long. From a pastor's perspective, we are always looking for ways to present the Gospel so that people not only hear the love of God but respond to it as well. The more I learn about learning styles, the better I become at representing my Lord!"

—Rev. Wes Sullivan
Church of the Nazarene, Gig Harbor, WA

"There are no words that can express my gratitude for what you were able to accomplish with my Board of Directors. ...Your energy and enthusiasm were evident, and the tools you gave to us helped us accomplish more than I could have hoped for."

—Larry Wieda
Crime Stoppers International, Inc., Albuquerque, NM

It amazes me how well she knows teenagers and exactly how we think and act and feel. She made wonderful suggestions that make sense and will work as long as parents stay calm and not point their fingers and make us do it. Once again Cynthia is an amazing speaker who has certainly done her research and knows what she is talking about. Thank you very much and I plan to share these suggestions with my mom—hopefully it will improve our relationship.
